

FF Soil Association

Certified as a Soil Association approved protein supplement for use in organic fish feed

FF Soil Association is a nutritious fish meal product that is targeted at organic salmon farming. It is used in one of the world's most discerning and salmon consumer-oriented industries, namely the Norwegian.

FF Soil Association is the closest you can get to salmon's natural food in taste and nutritional values. Made from herring and filleting waste from the herring industry - totally compliant with the requirements for sustainability and welfare. Only natural antioxidants are added to make FF Soil Association the perfect protein supplement in a balanced and ecological feed compound.

FF Soil Association is primarily supplied in bulk as larger batches - guaranteed salmonella-free and approved as an organic protein supplement in the UK and France by the Soil Association.
